OCCUM AND VERSAILLES

F. H. Todd, chairman for this section, reports gains over the top in the United War Work campaign drive, $1,566.74 being given to the cause. The thorough and efficient work of the different teams and the substantial help given by the Towhee Manufacturing plant, Veroille's Sanitary Cloth Mills, Hygiene Fibre company, in union with the residents of both villages made it possible to go over the top. The team for raising the fund consisted of William Perry, V. E. A. Quinn, William Jones, A. B. Deane, Annie Mann, Paul Raimondi, Joseph Brown, Felix Cunningham, Fred L. Bailey, Moses Luffenbery, J. B. E. Luffenbery, H. P. Haley, James Smith, A. P. Lawton, J. C. Pelouquin, George Tarrant and Arthur Desbureau.

H. A. Richards, after several weeks of illness is again able to attend to the management of the Towhee store. The Occum and Versailles Red Cross auxiliary held its weekly meeting on Tuesday afternoon, Wednesday afternoon the members enjoyed a social afternoon in Occum hall, the first time that they have met except for the work.

POMFRET

The funeral of Miss Alice Hickey was held Wednesday morning at last week at Holy Trinity church. Rev. J. J. Ely officiating the requiem high mass. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends from Pomfret, Putnam, Providence, Worcester, Will-mantle, Whitinsville and New Jersey. The hearse was William King, Harry Hickey, Andrew Murdoch and Thomas Dunn. There were beautiful floral tributes. Burial was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery, Putnam.

Miss Hickey died Sunday, Nov. 10, after a long illness. She was born in Pomfret, one of a family of nine children. Twenty-seven years ago she entered the store of B. D. Bugbee and remained until she had to give up on account of ill health. Since she was taken ill Miss Hickey has been staying with her sister in Pomfret, at the home of Mrs. Edgington, and every comfort that loving kindness and willing hands could provide was furnished her. Two of her sisters are nuns, Sister M. Felicitia of Providence and Sister M. Perpetua of Pawtucket.

WESTERLY

The civic centre of Westerly, now the pride of every resident, will surely be enhanced when the proposed large and modern building of the Washington Trust company materializes. The company owns the corner of Broad and Main streets, from the Rhode Island hotel building, Broad street, to the Fenelon building, Main street, and it is understood that the entire property will be covered by the new building, or combination-building, as the section occupied by the bank will be of native granite, while the rest of the big structure may be of brick. It is understood that the present bank building will remain intact, while the work is going on, the new structure enveloping it, until temporary quarters can be provided in the new building, while the permanent and new quarters are fully prepared.

Various sets of plans are being considered by the bank officers, but none has as yet been adopted, there being ample time to reach careful decision, as the work will not be commenced until there is practical return of normal conditions in regard to material and labor. The tenants of the so-called Chapman building, in the corner and the one adjoining in Main street will be given ample opportunity to secure temporary places for business while the building is being constructed.

Mrs. Walter P. Buck, of New London, president of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the New England Southern Methodist Conference, in session at Providence, in her opening address reviewed the work of the society at the naval base and hospital in New London. She suggested a pledge of $100 for the continuance of the work among the Italians and Portuguese of New Bedford and Providence. During the past twenty-five years $50,211.53 has been raised by the conference.

Mrs. Robert Bitgood of New London, secretary of young people's work, suggested that next year's goal be 25 per cent increase in membership.

Mrs. Jerome Greer, of Centerville, stated there had been a net gain of 2235 in membership, and that the debt of the national society had been cancelled and that larger contributions had been received by her as conference treasurer.

Mrs. Lyman G. Horton, of Bristol, formerly of Westerly, conducted the memorial service and noontide prayer, and Mrs. Buck led the devotional service.

Mrs. Bitgood presided at the evening session. Mrs. Buck was presented a perpetual membership by Mrs. Greer, and another was presented by Mrs. J. P. Cooper to Mrs. Molly T. Lawton.

Miss Florence Washburn reported on work of the past year for the Norwich district. Mrs. Stephen A. Prens of New London led the afternoon devotional service. The election of officers resulted in choice of the following:

Mrs. William P. Buck of New London, president.

Mrs. W. F. Morrison, Providence, vice president.

Mrs. J. Francis Cooper, Providence, treasurer.

Mrs. Robert Bitgood of New London, secretary of Young People's work.

Mrs. F. S. Blaisdell, Providence, recording secretary.

Mrs. Jerome Greer, Centerville, corresponding secretary.

Relatives of the bride, from Groton, attended the marriage of Miss Janet Isabel Ferguson and Frank Vinton Brown, Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed in St. John's Episcopal church, Providence, by Rev. Frank Scott, rector of the church. The bride was attended by Miss Annie Tholander as bridesmaid, and Mrs. Thomas Balfour, sister of the bride, as matron of honor. Gavin B. Ferguson Jr., was best man, and Thomas Balfour and Peter A. Ferguson were the ushers.

The election of officers local parade will be members of the company, guarded by their comrades.

Several Westerly dentists are in Providence attending the twenty-second annual meeting of the New England Dental association, in Providence, which began Thursday morning and will last until Saturday afternoon. In connection with this regular session there will be ten-minute talks by directors of the Preparedness League of American Dentists. Among the speakers are: Alfred C. Pones, of Bristolport, Northeastern Dental Department; Albert W. Crosby, of New London, director for Connecticut; and Walter R. McIntire, of Providence, formerly of New London, director for Rhode Island.

A call has been extended by the Broad Street Christian church to Rev. P. A. Sayles, of Lynn, Mass., to become pastor, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John G. Dutton, who accepted a call to Agawam, Mass. There were several others considered at the church meeting, Wednesday night, and Rev. Sayles was selected on the first ballot, which was made formal and unanimous by a rising vote. It is said the salary offered is $1,200 a year with parsonage.

The United War Work committee made its final report Tuesday showing that $14,564.74 had been pledged in the Westerly district, as against the allotment of $25,000. The total is made up as follows: Westerly by teams and canvassers, $13,425.65; Charlestown, $2,742.42; Richmond, $988.80; Hopkinton, $341.29; corporations, $12,650; industrial employees, $5,378.50.

Miss Little Wheeler's paper related to Petrarch and his followers in the Revival of Learning. Miss L. Gertrude Stillman, an Ashaway graduate of Alfred university, and Miss Ruth Fajne, of Stonington, of Brown university, were elected members of the club.

Miss Hazel M. Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Freeman, and Howard D. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Leonard, were married Wednesday evening by Rev. P. Strain, at the home of the bride's parents. They were attended by Miss Marion Bottomley, of Norton, Mass., and Dwight Freeman, brother of the bride.

The Ninigret Mills company, to be located in Westerly, with a capital stock of $50,000, to engage in general textile business, was granted a charter on Thursday at the office of the secretary of state of Rhode Island. The incorporators are: Councilman Frederick E. Fowler, president of the Westerly Textile company; Charles Perry, president of the Washington Trust company; and Councilman Fowler's son, Charles S. secretary of the Westerly Textile company.

Frederick E. Fowler recently purchased the large industrial plant in Westerly, and the Western Woolen Mill company, and the new industry will probably be located in that plant.
